Bio My family coincidentally moved to Milwaukee, WI just as I was starting college at the University of Wisconsin. Since my family relocated to Wisconsin and we had no other relatives in the area, I never went back to Wintersville or Steubenville for a visit after I started college. I thought about many of my classmates but was very remiss about keeping in touch.

I graduated from college with a B.S. in Communicative Disorders and then with an M.S. in Curriculum & Instruction, both from the University of Wisconsin. I met my future husband on a blind date and we were married the day after my college graduation. After grad school, we settled in Milwaukee, close to both of our families. I taught as a reading teacher for 3 years until the first of our 3 daughters, was born. While I was a full time mommy, I volunteered for many Jewish organizations. I went back to work in the family precast concrete business as advertising director, when our youngest daughter started kindergarten. I retired after 17 years, when we closed the business. I am still very involved in the Milwaukee Jewish community and our synagogue. I enjoy biking, walking and traveling. We have 3 daughters, 5 grandsons and 1 granddaughter, none of whom live near us; so visiting our grandchildren is a high priority! Our daughters and their families live in Johannesburg, South Africa; Boca Raton, FL; and New York, New York, all great places to visit!
